Democrats Fight Ike's Message

Republicans Support 'State of the Union'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democratic congressional leaders made it clear today they plan to whip through their own legislative program without much regard to President Eisenhower's recommendations.

Although Eisenhower will not spell out publicly the details of his proposals until his Jan. 19 budget message, Democrats generally complained his State of the Union report Friday lacked the bold approach they contend is needed to meet swiftly mounting world problems.

Republicans stood firmly behind the President.

Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.) summed up the viewpoint of many of his colleagues when he said: "I don't think the President has recognized the intensity of the problems crowding in on us, especially in the field of national defense. We are approaching the period when the Soviets will have operational intercontinental missiles and we will not. I regret his failure to meet this situation."

Sen. Hubert Humphrey (D-Minn.) said Eisenhower had failed to come up with any new ideas in quest for world peace. Humphrey said "it appears the Senate will be required to take the initiative in the field of foreign policy proposals."

U. S. Rocket Expert In England Replaced

LONDON (AP)—The chief U.S. rocket expert in Britain has been replaced, and two high-ranking American rocket technicians have been fired, reportedly in a dispute over living and working conditions at secret bases.

Errol M. Neff, former representative of Douglas Aircraft Corp. for organization of Thor missile bases, fired two American technicians last December. Douglas makes the Thor, a missile with a 1,500-mile range capable of carrying a nuclear warhead.

Neff then was relieved of all his duties Dec. 19 at the Thor sites. Two days later he suffered a heart attack and went to a U.S. Air Force hospital in Cambridgehire.

Neff, 58, declined comment today on a published report that work at the missile bases in eastern England had been delayed several weeks. But a U.S. Air Force spokesman denied there was any delay.

From his hospital bed Neff insisted he had been replaced "because of my physical condition."

"I have no complaints about my treatment by Douglas, and I hope to return to California to take up a less exacting post with them," he said.

"For security reasons I cannot give the number of Douglas men working here. But I fired two of them and sent them back to the United States."

He declined to name the two.

W. L. Duval, who was in charge of another section of Thor work, has been named as Neff's successor. The fired technicians have been replaced.

Castro Angered By U. S. Support Of 'Dictators'

Rebel Leader Cites America's Outfitting Of Fulgencio Batista

HAVANA, Cuba (AP) — Fidel Castro said today he is sympathetic toward the people of the United States but he complained that the U.S. government armed dictators.

Pointing to tanks seized from fallen dictator Fulgencio Batista, Castro said Washington supplied them "and did not worry about our democratic feelings."

The rebel leader added at a news conference, "I must recognize that the United States in the last year did not send arms to Batista. Now the United States has recognized us and we are glad."

All weapons shipments from the United States to Cuba were halted during the latter part of Castro's guerrilla war against Batista's forces. On Wednesday Washington recognized the government of Provisional President Manuel Urrutia, whom Castro installed in office.

Castro said two or three dozen persons have been executed since he won. "Those who have been executed in eastern Cuba had abused the people," he said. "They all got trials in military courts."

Castro met newsmen after a leader of a separate rebel group asked checks on the power of Urrutia's government.

Castro publicly criticized him as a troublemaker, ostensibly because his group seized some arms earlier this week.

Faure Chaumont, a leader of the student-backed revolutionary directorate, wants a legislative group organized to prevent one-man rule during the provisional period.

Provisional President Manuel Urrutia, whom Castro installed, dissolved Congress Tuesday on the ground it was packed with supporters of fallen dictator Fulgencio Batista.

Chaumont also said Friday the directorate wanted free elections within a year instead of the 18 to 24 months that Urrutia and Castro have said would be needed to get Cuba back on an even keel.

Chaumont had maintained earlier that the directorate was not getting a voice in the government equal to what he claimed was its part in overthrowing Batista. Two members of Urrutia's Cabinet are members of the directorate, which consists mainly of students plus some backers of former President Carlos Prío Socarras, a Castro supporter.

In a television speech Friday night, Castro blasted Chaumont as the man "responsible for the problems we have now" in setting up the new government.

In spite of the squabbling, Castro's enormous popularity is expected certain to help him resolve the disputes and bring the nation together. Further government appointments might placate the directorate.

Judge Orders Little Rock to 'Move Forward'

New Order Effects Dec. 8 Mandate by St. Louis Court

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — A federal judge today ordered the Little Rock School Board to "move forward within their official powers" to carry out a plan of integration for the city's closed high schools.

U.S. District Judge John E. Miller further ordered the board to report to the court within 30 days details of whatever affirmative steps they have taken to comply with this order.

Miller's order put into effect a mandate issued Dec. 2, 1958, by the 8th U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals at St. Louis.

Miller enjoined the board from leasing public school facilities to any private group for operation of segregated schools and "from engaging in any other acts, whether independently or in participation with anyone else which are capable of serving to impede, thwart or frustrate the execution of the integration plan mandated against them."

The two-page order was accompanied by a 20-page opinion.

Gov. Orval E. Faubus closed Little Rock's four high schools, including the all - Negro Horace Mann High, last Sept. 12. About 3,700 students were displaced by

New Highway Chief to Study Riverlake Rd.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The proposed 86-mile freeway from Lake Erie to the Ohio River—approved by outgoing Highway Director Charles M. Noble—will be re-examined by the new Democratic state administration.

Everett S. Preston, the new highway director, said Friday night he will study the entire program. He complained that officials who leave office Monday "are attempting to do our thinking for us."

The proposed route would run from Ashtabula to East Liverpool, passing near Youngstown and Salem.

"I have no argument with the route of the highway," Preston said. "But we will be responsible for the department and we will have to re-analyze the situation. Because of the state's financial condition, jobs on the immediate program must show a justified need."

Noble said the four-county road—Mahoning, Ashtabula, Trumbull and Columbiana—would run in an almost straight line from U.S. 20 at Ashtabula to Lisbon, where it would join relocated Ohio 7 and U.S. 30 to East Liverpool.

Soviet Lauds Molotov

Mikoyan Concludes Midwestern Swing

CHICAGO (AP) — Soviet Deputy Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan has predicted a more important ambassador post for deposed leader V. M. Molotov.

Concluding a Midwest swing, Mikoyan Friday night talked with unusual ease and frankness about out-of-favor Molotov, now ambassador to Outer Mongolia, and other shunted Soviet officials.

Through an interpreter, Mikoyan predicted at a meeting of more than 200 lawyers at the Law Club of Chicago that Molotov, ousted as foreign minister in 1957, may get a more responsible ambassador post. But Mikoyan said Molotov will not be in a policy-making position.

The gladhanding Mikoyan also described the late, feared Lavrenty Beria "as an adventurer, an intriguer, a man without principles of any sort."

Busy Sightseeing Day

Mikoyan's talk climaxed a busy sightseeing day in Chicago which included the premiere performance of the Beryozka Russian dance company in the Civic Opera House.

Alluding to Molotov's future, Mikoyan told the lawyers: "We have full confidence in him as an ambassador because no issues of reform will come up in any country where he is representing us."

Molotov's trouble, Mikoyan said, was that he was a conservative. He lost out in the battle with the reformers, he indicated.

But then Mikoyan said: "I respect him (Molotov) very much."

Asked about Beria, Mikoyan said: "I knew Beria well. I did not respect him. He was an adventurer, a capable man but an intriguer, a man without principles of any sort. You might call him a business man in politics. (This comment evoked a roar of laughter from the audience and Mikoyan joined them.)"

Cold Weather Takes Hold of Eastern States

By The Associated Press

Freezing weather, guised under clear skies, clasped a tight grip over the eastern two thirds of the nation today but a warm air flow was kicking at its heels in the Plains and Rockies.

Cold air penetrated a wide belt from the Southern Plains to the extreme Northeast and Southeast, chilling the Atlantic seaboard and Dixie.

In the Northeast, it was quite cold with Boston reporting an early -13. Temperatures were not likely to rise more than the 20s during the day along many coastline points.

Similar readings were the order of the day for the Midwest and Ohio Valley.

The warming trend, fed by a flow of southerly winds, was to reach to the Mississippi Valley later today.

At midnight Friday, readings in the 20s were reported through much of the northern Rockies and from the Dakotas to Kansas. This marked a general 8 to 12 degree rise for many spots.

Snow flurries interrupted the clear sky pattern in the Great Lakes region and along the Appalachian Mountain range from northern Vermont to the Tennessee-North Carolina area.

Some precipitation spotted the West Coast from Washington into central California.

Johnson's Backers Hold Filibuster Edge

WASHINGTON (AP) — Compromise forces guided by Majority Leader Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex.) held a firm upper hand today in the Senate battle over making it easier to choke off filibusters.

They won a lopsided 60-36 vote Friday in a first test of strength when antifilibuster forces tried to establish that each new Senate has the right to adopt its own rules without regard to prior rules.

But senators demanding a tighter curb to filibuster than Johnson has proposed kept on fighting.

Sen. Paul H. Douglas (D-Ill.), who denounced Johnson's proposal as "a fake," offered a substitute that would permit filibusters to be halted by 50 votes, or a majority of all 98 senators, after 15 days.

Under Johnson's compromise, talkfests could be shut off and issues forced to a vote by two-thirds of the senators present and voting. The existing rule requires the votes of 66 senators, or two-thirds of the entire membership.

Douglas contended that the difference between Johnson's proposal and the present rule is so minor that it could be detected "only with a powerful magnifying glass."

The substitute offered by Douglas for a bipartisan bloc of Northern and Western senators will come up for a vote Monday.

Russians Want Prague Meeting With Big Three

Red Note in Reply To West Rejections Of Earlier Request

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union proposed today a German peace conference in Prague or Warsaw within two months and gave representatives of the Western Big Three drafts of a peace treaty.

The government also "expressed a desire to settle the Berlin question," the Soviet news agency Tass said. It gave no details.

The Soviet notes were in reply to Western rejections of an earlier Soviet note. The note of Nov. 27 had proposed that the United States, Britain and France pull their troops out of West Berlin, leaving it an unarmored free city.

In similar Western rejections, the three nations suggested that a Big Four conference be called to consider the whole German problem, including reunification.

There was no immediate indication which nations the Soviet Union intended should meet in Warsaw or Prague.

However, Tass said the Soviet draft treaty proposal was given the Western Big Three "for transmission to governments of these states and other states who took part with their armed forces in the war against Germany, as well as to the governments of the German Democratic Republic (Communist East Germany) and the Federal German Republic (West Germany)."

Refused Suggestions

The West has refused repeated Soviet suggestions that it sit down with East Germany to discuss a peace treaty or reunification. The West contends that the East German regime is illegal because it does not have popular support and therefore does not deserve a place in discussions.

The Tass statement went on: "The conclusion of a peace treaty with Germany would play a positive part not only in safeguarding peace in Europe but also in solving the all-national task of the German people: the unification of Germany."

"The note of the Soviet government to the governments of the U.S.A., Britain and France also replies to the notes of these governments on the Berlin question and again expresses the desire to settle the Berlin question through the states concerned."

The U.S. reply to the earlier Soviet note had said Berlin should be discussed "in the wider framework of negotiations for a solution of the German problem as well as that of European security."

The envoys of the three Western powers were called separately to the Soviet Foreign Office to receive copies of the 12-page note with the draft treaty enclosed. India's chief of mission and the East German ambassador also got copies.

One envoy said he believed this draft had been circulated in the West previously.

A U.S. Embassy spokesman declined comment until the note and draft treaty had been reported to Washington.

INCOME TAX PRIMER:

Legal Expense Deductions

By RICHARD A. MULLENS
Written for NEA Service
Fifth of 12 Chapters

Significant changes have been made since last year in the rules for reporting employees' expense allowances.

It all started when the Internal Revenue Service added a new line to tax Form 1040 for use in deducting travel and reimbursed expenses.

There were so many complaints about requiring employees to account for all their expense money that the Internal Revenue Service re-studied the matter and came up with a new set of rules for 1958.

The rules cover travel, transportation, entertainment and other business-connected expenses of employees.

To apply the new regulations, the employee must first determine which of the following two categories he is in:

EMPLOYEES WHO WERE REQUIRED to and did submit an expense voucher or other accounting to their employers in which they listed their business expenses; or Employees who were not required to or did not account to their employer for business expenses.

If you are in the second category, then you must file on Form 1040 and attach thereto a statement showing:

1. The total of all amounts received as advances or reimbursements, including amounts directly or indirectly charged to the employer through the use of credit cards; and

2. Your occupation; the number of days away from home on business; and the total amount of business expenses paid or incurred during 1958. The expenses must be broken down into broad headings like transportation, meals and lodging away from home overnight, entertainment expenses, and other business expenses.

IF THE ADVANCES or reimbursements received from your employer exactly equal your business expenses, it is not necessary to make any further entry on the tax return. If the employer's payments exceeded your business expenses, the excess must be reported as income on line 5, page 1 of Form 1040. If your expenses exceeded the employer's payments, the excess may be deducted as provided on page 6 of the official instructions.

IF YOU HAVE TO LIST business expenses on your tax return, get this form from an Internal Revenue Service office. It will help you show the correct information.

Most employees, however, are required to submit detailed expenses accounts to their employers and receive only enough from the employer to cover their expenses. It is not necessary for such employees to attach any statement or list their business expenses on the return.

HOWEVER, where reimbursements exceed expenses, the excess must be included in the employee's income. If business expense exceed the reimbursements and the employee wants to deduct the excess, he must submit with his return a full statement giving the information specified in paragraphs numbered 1 and 2, above, relative to employees who are not required to account to their employers.

To "account to your employer" means to give the boss a detailed written report of your expenditures. However, detailed reports are not needed if your employer gives you not more than $15 per day for living expenses and not more than 12½¢ per mile for travel in the U.S.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

'Inflation Can Be Prevented'

His countrymen back home on Main st were happier about President Eisenhower's state-of-the-union message than his political associates in Washington.

Whenever a president delivers one of these messages to Congress he reports, in effect, on the state of himself, Mr. Eisenhower looks very much like a chief executive with a stiffened back at the outset of 1959.

If he holds this posture while Congress drones through its 1959 session and arrives at a spending policy, he will become a symbol of the only friend the taxpayer has left in this whole wide world.

He will look like an over-age Goliath winding up to whirl a stone smack-dab between the beady eyes of the spendocrats who have been brandishing a Goliath's club labeled "100-billion-dollar budget." That is their free-wheeling estimate of what the government should be spending to keep even with the Soviet Union.

IT SEEMS incredible that anyone over the age of six could be dumb enough not to understand that the strength of the United States is determined by private spending, not public spending. This is not Russia, where all spending must be done by the Communist masters, or not at all.

There is no comparison between the two countries, yet a movement is afoot in Washington among spendocrats to put the U.S. government into competition with the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics on a public-spending basis. They estimate that 100 million in 1959-1960 would be about right for a start, with much more later.

To them and their inflationary doctrine, President Eisenhower has said in unmistakably clear terms that a budget of 77 billion would be a great plenty.

A Little Something for Everybody

The momentous battles among politicians over trifling issues of organization are over. The 86th Congress now can get on with its main business, which is to represent 170 million people and 49 states.

If the United States is lucky, it will not suffer the dismal fate that politicians inflicted on the French republic, where they finally became so absorbed in politics they represented no one but themselves.

The 86th Congress should have a little something for everybody, in the line of representation. Otherwise, representative democracy can have no future. In the past, its future looked bleakest when Congress ceased to be representative and turned into a rubber stamp.

It looked no better when it became so preoccupied with trampling on the executive department and the courts that it forgot to perform its legislative duty.

The 86th Congress does not seem inclined to stamp or trample. It seems inclined to legislate in the spirit of representative democracy.

This would mean that extremism in any direction would be curbed. It would guarantee that no hasty solutions would be imposed on problems not yet ripe for solution. It would be a promise that moderation would be a fixed goal of all drives for new laws.

There would be differences of opinion, but no feuds. There would be strains, but no tearing asunder. Congress has a heavy sense of responsibility in 1959 — and President Eisenhower is largely responsible for it.

Since 1933, he has gone out of his way to treat Congress as a co-equal. He has shunned the dictatorial attitude that kept President Truman and President Roosevelt at war with their congressional opponents and even with their congressional backers.

He has let it be known on many occasions that his aim is to get along with Congress, not to try to put himself above it. History will show, moreover, that he did get along amazingly well during the 84th and 85th Congresses.

Once Over

You don't suppose, do you, that Batista got out of Cuba because his doctor ordered him off SUGAR? It seems too bad both sides couldn't get together and agree on a revolution in summer instead of the height of the winter vacation season.

Business got so bad at the Havana hotels that guests began to ask for bulletins as well as breakfast in bed.

Havana has long been a favorite winter vacation ground for Americans, and may resume its pleasure status soon. But a revolution is not the American idea of tropical entertainment.

AMERICANS FLOCKED to Havana for nightclubs, gambling casinos and gay life. But early winter disturbances filled them with the fear that they might need to play roulette in an armored vest.

Unless Castro restores order fast, which he may, Miami and other southern vacation spots will be beneficiaries. The only war around Miami is between guests with and without reservations. All the fighting there is over beach chairs, cabanas, and places in mutual-window lines.

A revolutionist could get control only if he became a nightclub sensation, cut mutual tickets to 50 cents, and guaranteed a better form at dog tracks.

FIDEL STARTED the Cuban revolt as a one-man act and developed it into a "spectacular." It's the amazing case of a man making it the hard way.

All he seems to have had was a curious idea of chin whiskers, an aversion to a razor

He has declared that dollar-cheapening inflation which does not worry the spendocrats a bit worries him a lot and can be prevented.

He even has done what few of his countrymen expected a man with his military background would do; he has put his presidential finger in the eye of his former military associates who always want twice as much as they think they can get, which is 20 per cent more than they need.

And just to make sure that no spendocrat will be able to sleep for the next few months, the President has struck a ringing note of compassion for his squirming countrymen who, starting at this time every year, settle their accounts with the tax collectors.

DWIGHT EISENHOWER thinks it is highly important to let the U.S. taxpayer keep more of the money he earns. He thinks, private, individual enterprise is worth saving as a way of life. He says the preservation of America's secret of making money by letting the American people spend it on their own collective progress is just as important as the sterile contest to see who can pile up the biggest stack of armament without going broke.

This is an interesting insight into the state of the President, who is showing interesting signs of anti-inflationary leadership. There is no political future in it, because it would entail a touch of austerity, but perhaps Dwight Eisenhower like Charles de Gaulle has decided there are more important things than political futures when a man is making his last stand as a public figure.

If the presidential backbone stays this stiff, the spendocrats will have started to live their darkest hour, beginning with the budget debate of 1959. An American taxpayer can call some of his money his own.

Congress as a coordinate branch of the government never has been in a stronger position. The White House has not been misused as a sounding board to abuse it, debate it and criticize it.

His critics are saying that Mr. Eisenhower is not making what they would call a "strong record," because he does not rant and rave at Congress.

But it is to be noted for the record, also, that Congress never was in a more favorable position to carry out its Constitutional duties than it is in the absence of presidential ranting and raving. Representatives and senators do not feel that they are embroiled in a battle for political power.

At a time when everybody seems to be in a mood to snipe at the White House for not issuing a political thunderclap a day and twice on Sundays, it is only fair to point out that Congress has no complaint on that score. Dwight Eisenhower promised as a candidate in 1952 that he would stop the practice of bad-mouthing both Congress and the Supreme Court for presidential advantage, and he has kept his promise.

Over By a Push

Because Salem's Community Chest drive two months ago fell $4,644 short of the $61,265 goal, officers decided at the annual Chest Council meeting this week to dip into a reserve fund to make up the deficit.

This action will insure all participating agencies of adequate operating funds for 1959 but it will put a dent into the small reserve fund which is earmarked for emergencies.

It will make it all the more important next time that the Chest campaign goal is reached. Chairman Robert Oswald and Chest Council President R. G. Femema will need the closest cooperation of the "red feather" agencies so that budgets, when submitted for approval, are kept to essential minimums.

commercial and a conviction a man could function in an important way without a mahogany desk, a swivel chair, oriental rugs and a secretary to tell visitors that he was in conference.

Cuba is famed as a sugar country. But up to Batista's flight "One lump or two?" was apt to be a question asked by an agitator with clenched fists.

WOULD YOU CALL the Cuban setup a 'Castro Convertible'?

Remember away back when a nation could feel content without sending a rocket to the moon?

Mau has progressed to a point where he can guarantee his own finish. He has become so smart he can behave brainlessly.

Khrushchev missed the moon but he landed Mikoyan on the target. Mikoyan's "beep-beep" is heard clearly and he is visible from the Potomac 24 hours a day. Khrush could have fired his moon rocket New Year's Eve but he wanted his greetings to come first and indicate his fervent wish to be everybody's warm friend even if he had to scare them stiff.

Nelson Rockefeller in his inaugural speech as governor of New York seemed to promise America the best Washington administration he could give it.

MAIN BASIS for income tax in France is now the government estimate of visible wealth. His residence, secondary residence, autos, servants, etc., will "grade him into tax brackets." If he has a plane a yacht, race horses or even small speedboats it will cost him more. One of tourist sights may be the old-fashioned French taxation loophole.

The Atom in Industry

and service should be private.

When David E. Lilienthal retired as chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission in 1950, after four years in that post, he made a most significant statement.

He called for the removal of the heavy hand of government monopoly from this revolutionary form of human service. He advocated putting it "back on the American track" on which the motive power would be "the great prizes of satisfaction, prestige and profit that have always spurred men on in every other new chapter in American industrial history."

This considered statement of a man who not only had guided the development of atomic power for four years but had, for many years before that, been dominant in the great government operations of the GVA was nothing less than the judgment of the principle that in any industrial field the ultimate dominating agency of progress

GOVERNMENT may and should provide some research and, sparingly, financial assistance when an enterprise is new. But the aim always should be to move government out and permit the law of the free market to determine the future.

For government in business inevitably freezes what it controls into routine, stagnation, and scarcity of production.

In his years as AEC chairman, Lewis Strauss followed this principle. Personal wrangles with the Joint Congressional Committee were mingled with the argument, but essentially his effort was to prevent a government monopoly which would have nationalized the production of electricity for generations to come.

In December, a notable announcement was made jointly by the Pennsylvania Power and Light Company and Westinghouse which may precipitate a big debate on this subject.

Those two companies have been engaged since 1955 in making the necessary plans and preparations for a large-scale reactor of the "homogeneous" type. They have invested some millions of dollars of the companies' money in this enterprise.

They have decided to drop the project because of the many uncertainties that exist concerning that specific type of reactor, although they will continue with plans and developments of other reactors.

THIS HAS already been seized upon as an indication that private industry is not able or willing to continue with the building of large plants and that government must enter the field in a big way itself. There will be new pressure to pass something like the Gore bill, unsuccessfully pressed in the last Congress.

But failures of this kind are characteristic of all developing industries. They should not be interpreted as excuses for the government to rush in with its monopolistic power.

Consider, for example, the automobile industry, which represented a similar revolution in public service and in elevating the standard of living. Its history is strewn with failures but no effort was made by government to take it over on that account.

And so out of experiments and the wreckage of many hopes and the loss of many, many millions the automotive industry built for permanent success in a truly competitive private industry.

In the case of atomic power the origins were in government support, but always with private companies, under contract, doing the job. This boon to humanity will go on, too, with the drive provided by pioneering companies.

Government has its part, but it should always maintain the goal that private companies under proper regulation should ultimately do the job.

Intra-Party Strife

By DAVID LAWRENCE

GOP, Democrats Need Change in Attitude

What the Republicans and Democrats in Congress have needed more than anything else is not a change in their leaders but a change in the attitude of their rank and file — a willingness to dedicate themselves to principle instead of yielding always to expediency.

This is asking a lot of David Lawrence the politician who depends for reelection on the ignorance of certain segments of the electorate or their supposed cupidity — favors granted or expected to be derived from other taxpayers' money.

The conflict, for instance, among the Republicans between the so-called "liberals" and the "conservatives," often referred to as the "old guard," is not what it appears to be on the surface.

It is really a contest for individual prestige and power. One must search hard to find any single principle that motivates any large number in either group.

The ouster of Joe Martin from the Republican leadership in the House was not the result of any differences in ideology. Rep. H. H. Clegg of Indiana is as much a conservative as former Speaker Martin but there has been an undercurrent of dissatisfaction with the Republican situation in the House even among conservatives.

They can't put their finger on the cause of it but undoubtedly it is based on chagrin and disappointment over the severe defeat suffered in the last election.

Perhaps it is the belated discovery that a party with no offense and simply a polite defense doesn't get anywhere in the battle ring of politics.

THE DEMOCRATS as a minority party have been good on the offense. They have not been encumbered with the problems of the party in power in the White House. They have had a free hand to attack without worrying about defense tactics.

They even haven't had to defend the Truman administration which was repudiated at the polls in the election of 1952—in fact, they have managed recently to restore it almost to sainthood due to the way he Republicans muffed the defense of their party's record in connection with the Goldfine-Adams case.

In the last two years, the Democrats have made excellent use of the investigating machinery from a political standpoint. They have attacked the Republicans for influencing the federal agencies but have managed to squelch any remnant of the Democratic members of Congress who brazenly interfered and used influence with the federal agencies in behalf of their constituents.

Even the code of ethics recently announced by a Democratic-controlled committee exempts congressmen and senators from the same ethical obligations as would be imposed on officials of the federal agencies themselves. Yet the laws of the land say that the person who gives or attempts to give a bribe is as guilty of a crime as the official who receives it.

The Democrats, in the last two years, have done a very effective job of smearing the Eisenhower administration, especially in foreign affairs. Day after day has passed without any Republican defense or counterattack.

It is this daily publicity that forms the prejudices of the electorate long before the three months of any election campaign.

According to a Berlin dispatch this week from United Press International, the crisis in Berlin is related to a misconception in Moscow over the defeat of the Republicans in the last election.

It has been assumed in the Kremlin that the American people repudiated the Eisenhower leadership and that the Democrats are more friendly to Communist policies.

THIS IS an example of how attacks by the Democrats on the administration foreign policy have given an impression damaging to America abroad. The Republicans have done little to rebut these attacks, as they are not alert in the battle of the headlines.

Today the Republican party has a great chance for public service. It cannot win elections by dissension in its ranks. It must unite on basic principles that conservatives and liberals can agree upon, instead of chasing Democratic rainbows.

The fundamental principles of sound and honest government are not difficult to set forth. Chief among the planks — and the party might well formulate a platform for this Congress—should be the protection of the dollar against those who would raid the federal treasury.

Another plank needed is on the protection of the public interest against strikes that damage the community. Some form of compulsory arbitration and the espousal of individual rights inside and outside unions are more pressing than some of the side issues in which the politicians become absorbed nowadays.

Important as "civil rights" are to every section of the country where voting is concerned, just as important are the "civilrights" of the citizen who must today in most states accept a form of labor-union slavery as the price of a job in free America. The worker has lost his "civil rights" but there seems to be little worry about it in Congress. Racketeering in unions still flourishes.

It is a time for members of Congress to dedicate themselves to principle, with less and less emphasis on personal ambitions.

Ministers' Fund

By TOM HENSHAW

America's pioneer life insurance firm observes its 200th anniversary Sunday hale and hearty despite an unusual distinction.

It has never contested a claim. The firm is the Presbyterian Ministers' Fund, founded in Philadelphia in 1759 on a charter issued by Thomas and Richard Penn, sons of the founder of the Pennsylvania colony.

Presbyterians plan to note the anniversary with services Sunday in the old Pine Street church in Philadelphia and a dinner Jan. 27 at the Union League Club in the same city.

The fund began as the "corporation for the relief of poor & distressed Presbyterian ministers and for the poor & distressed widows & children of Presbyterian ministers."

Three years after its founding, the corporation boasted assets of 5,050 pounds. Now it has 60,000 members holding policies worth 194 million dollars and assets of 68½ million.

Premium rates are low, largely because ministers apparently live longer than the average citizen. Average minister's longevity: 72 years in 1958. Average citizen's longevity: 69.5 in 1955.

The fund also pays a relatively high dividend. About a million dollars a year is passed back to policyholders. This year, another half million will be given out as a dividend for the anniversary.

The policyholders are not all Presbyterians (less than 25 per cent) and not all ministers. Some are unordained foreign missionaries; some are theological students; some are wives and children of ministers.

The fund used to take some magnificent troupings, particularly from ministers who married young second or third wives late in life. After a while it was stipulated that a man should pay a double premium in the year he was married.

Some say the fund is the oldest life insurance company founded on modern lines still in existence. The first to serve the general public, Equitable of London, was founded in 1762.

Quakers Spurt In Second Half To Blast Warren 66-45

Contest Tied at Intermission; Deitch Paces Locals With 24

It took them an entire half to warm up, but Salem's Quakers came on strong in the second half Friday night at Warren to down the Black Panthers 66-45 after having been held to a 26-26 deadlock at the intermission.

The win was the locals' third straight and the sixth in seven decisions. Warren is now 4-6.

Salem's performance in the second half was highlighted by the effective scoring of Woody Deitch and by the prolific rebounding of big Lou Slaby. The 6-4 Salem center picked off 20 rebounds in the game, with 15 coming in the decisive third and fourth periods.

DEITCH FINISHED the game as the high scorer with 24 points. Jim Lehwald had 14; Dave Hunter, 11; and Dan Krichbaum, 10. Jack Currington and Ron McGarry had 11 each for Warren. The score was lower than other Salem games because Warren played a deliberate game and because the Quakers were away from their shooting in the first half.

In the first 16 minutes they hit on 12 of 32 shots from the field but only two of 12 from the foul line. In the second half they hit on 12 of 31 shots from the floor but missed 16 of 22 fouls to expedite their victory.

The 24 of 63 shots was good for 38 per cent, somewhat under their seasonal average of nearly 45 per cent.

Warren took advantage of Salem's cold spell and spurred to a 6-0 lead with 5:40 left in the first frame on two goals by Joe Malone and one by Paul Warfield. Salem then snapped out of it and tallied seven straight on efforts by Krichbaum, Hunter and Deitch to move on top at the 3:06 post.

THE QUAKERS AGAIN got cold and Warren tallied seven in a row to go ahead 13-7 at the end of the first quarter.

Salem started in a man to man defense while Warren kept in a zone defense until the very end. Salem missed a lot of easy shots in the period especially right underneath the Warren hoop. The ball just wouldn't go in the hoop, even on foul shots.

The Panthers possessed no systematic offense here but fired in shots from outside when they had an opening. They faced a semi-Salem press but combated it with long passes. The Quakers suffered by not getting offensive rebounds.

Hunter, Krichbaum and Deitch scored for Salem at the outset of the second period, and Warren's lead was trimmed to 13-12 with 6:57 left.

However, goals by Currington, Malone and Warfield kept Warren in contention as the Panthers led 17-14 with 5:02 left.

HERE KRICHBAUM scored and was later followed by Lehwald to put Salem ahead 18-17. With 3:49 left, Currington scored for Warren and the Panthers led 19-18.

The lead kept changing hands as Currington scored and then Krichbaum. With 1:51 left Warfield tallied to make it 23-20 for Warren.

Deitch then drove the length of the floor twice and laid in a bunny for four points to keep Salem in the game. His second one came with eight seconds left in the half, to tie the game at 26-26.

Slaby began rebounding more in this period, but the Quakers continued to miss fouls and easy shots.

Warren scored only four field goals in the last 10 minutes and 20 seconds of the first half but stayed in the game by making the foul shots.

Salem seemed to do better here when in a zone defense from which they utilized a fast break.

WARREN USED A breaking type game, too, especially when dominating the rebounds following a Salem shot.

With 7:10 left in the third period the score was tied 29-29. Deitch then scored three times from the charity line to put Salem ahead 32-29 with 6:36 left. The Quakers were never headed after that.

Shortly afterwards, Lehwald tallied twice and Hunter twice, and with 4:03 left, Salem led 36-31.

Deitch then got hot for Salem and tossed in six points in a row to get the Quakers moving on their way with authority. Salem led 42-31 with 1:29 left in the third period.

Currington and Warfield chalked up goals for Warren near the end as the quarter ended 44-34 for Salem.

SALEM AND WARREN both suffered in this period because of fouls. Tutich of Warren and Slaby and Krichbaum of Salem sat out the better part of the period because of fouls.

The Quakers began hitting on their fouls and easy attempts here, enabling them to pull away from the Panthers.

With Deitch scoring and Slaby rebounding, the Quakers found themselves pulling further away as the game progressed. In the fourth frame Salem outscored Warren 22-11.

Warren lost completely any upset hopes early in the fourth period because Salem scored the first 10 points in the frame to move ahead by 20 at 54-34 with 4:52 left.

Salem's rapid move into the rout area was largely due to the tremendous rebounding of Slaby who time and again would snare a lost Warren toss.

The locals let up on a tight press and elected to check Warren tighter when they were closer to the Quakers' basket.

WARREN TRIED pressing Salem in the frame but those tactics didn't work. Krichbaum, Hunter and Lehwald easily got around the Panther defenders and passed off to open mates right underneath.

With 1:51 left and Salem ahead 61-43, Salem mentor John Cabas began emptying his bench. Tim Burchfield, Jim Solemen, who came in initially for Krichbaum midway in the third frame, Erick Theiss and Carl Dunn all saw action.

The Quakers will be in action again tonight on the home floor against the Ravenna Ravens, a team with a 4-4 record.

In the prelude last night, Salem won 43-30 for their sixth JV win in seven games.

Erick Theiss had 16 while Carl Dunn had eight and Jim Solemen seven for Salem.

Salem led 21-12 at the half and 29-18 after three frames. Coach Karl Zellers played nine men in the victory. The Salem JVs will play the Ravenna JVs in the first game tonight starting at 7 p.m.

ROUTE APPROVED

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—One of Charles M. Noble's last acts as Ohio highway director was to approve the route for a new 100-million-dollar road to run along the Ohio River from East Liverpool to Ashtabula on Lake Erie.

Noble confirmed this Friday night as he packed his bags for a trip back to his home state of New Jersey. His resignation from the highway job became effective Friday.

SALEM AND WARREN both suffered in this period because of fouls. Tutich of Warren and Slaby and Krichbaum of Salem sat out the better part of the period because of fouls.

The Quakers began hitting on their fouls and easy attempts here, enabling them to pull away from the Panthers.

With Deitch scoring and Slaby rebounding, the Quakers found themselves pulling further away as the game progressed. In the

Earl Buchholz Trips Spaniard in Tourney

PERTH (AP)—American teenager Earl Buchholz added another junior title to his lengthening string today and prepared to go after the men's singles championship Sunday in the Western Australian Tennis Tournament.

Playing in the first of three finals without an Australian in the entire list, the 18-year-old son of a St. Louis professional easily trounced Louis Arilla of Spain in the junior final 6-4, 6-2.

Sunday he faces another Spaniard and a tougher one, Andres Gimeno, for the men's championship. Based on his slashing play against Arilla and Gimeno's lackluster performance in the doubles, Buchholz was conceded a good chance to take the first Australian state title an American has won in years.

Dixon Beaten By Armstrong In New York

NEW YORK (AP)—Eddie Dixon, the fighting cop, is due back on the beat tonight in Newark, N. J. if he takes the advice of Gene (Ace) Armstrong he'll stay there.

Armstrong, a unanimous decision winner over Dixon Friday night, wasn't talking about his opponent's ability as a fighter. His advice was strictly financial.

"If this guy doesn't get any more fights than I do," he said, "Please, tell him to stay a cop. At least you get a regular pay day."

Although Armstrong has won 16 straight and still is unbeaten, he had only two fights all last year.

"In a couple of days, I'll know better," said Dixon after the fight when asked if he made up his mind between fighting or a police career. "A man needs a couple of days to think."

"It has to be one or the other," said his manager, Bobby Nelson. The police director of Newark, Joseph F. Weldon, couldn't agree more.

Weldon advised Dixon last week that department regulations forbid a man from holding two jobs. Dixon, 160½, had a weight edge on Armstrong, 155½. He got about $5,000 for the fight compared to his police annual salary of $4,600.

All three officials had Armstrong an easy winner. Referee Ruby Goldstein scored it 7-2-1. Judge Tony Castellano 8-1-1 and Judge Joe Agnello 7-3. The AP card also was 7-3 for Armstrong.

Ohio State will be seeking its first conference victory as against one loss and Michigan (1-1) hopes to return to contention with a triumph over the Buckeyes.

Despite the home-floor advantage, it is conceivable both Northwestern and Illinois could suffer their initial defeats. Indiana, using a zone defense these days to take advantage of its team's height, beat Purdue after losing at Michigan State by only two points.

Illinois will be faced with its most severe test of the young conference race. Victories over Ohio State and Wisconsin have given the Illini a fast start but the victims have not been considered whirlwinds.

Michigan State, one of the pre-season favorites, cannot afford another loss at this stage of the campaign.

Sebring's Trojans dropped a hard fought decision to the Poland Bulldogs 69-54 after having tied the score at 30-30 at halftime in a game played on the Sebring hardwoods Friday evening.

The loss was the fifth straight for Sebring; Poland's record now stands at four wins and one loss.

The Trojans fought back valiantly to wipe out a 19-6 first quarter deficit and tie the score at intermission.

The Trojans, outscored in the first canto, turned the tables on the Bulldogs in the second period as they pumped in 24 points to the Bulldogs' 11.

The Bulldogs bounced back in the third period to take a commanding 51-40 lead, but this did not take any of the fight out of the Trojans.

Joe MacAbier was high for the Trojans with 25 points.

Charles Archibald netted 19 in leading the scoring for Poland. In a preliminary game, Sebring's

Overtime Tilt Ends Golden Eagles' Win Skein

By HARRY SAVAGE

Fairfield-Waterford shot into a 12-point first quarter lead, held onto this lead until the closing minutes of regulation time and finally spurred for nine points in overtime to dump United Local from the unbeaten ranks by a score of 67-61, Friday night at Fairfield-Waterford.

Coach Bing Newton's Rebels shot an amazing 60 per cent from the floor and canned 72 per cent of their free throws in recording their sixth victory against three defeats. United Local's record stands at 8-1. The Golden Eagles hit only 23 per cent of their shots.

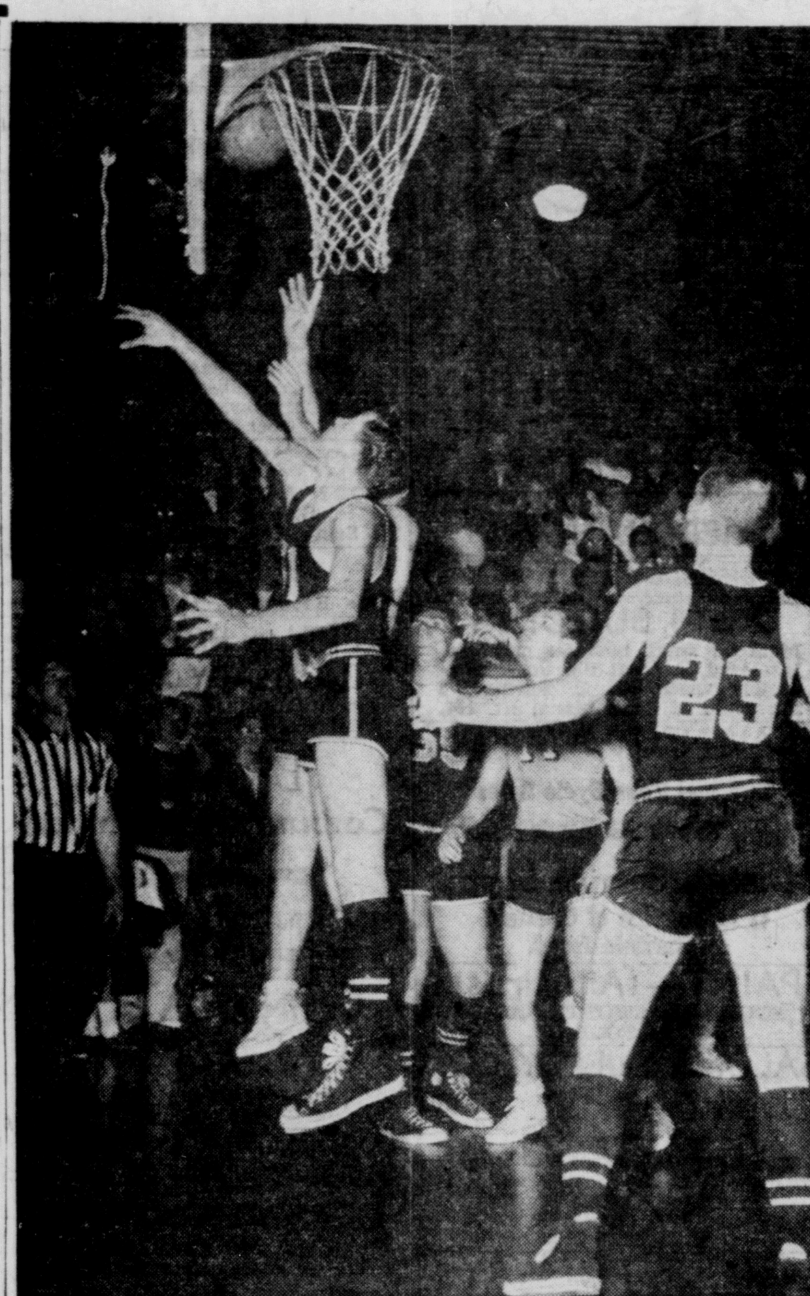

The Eagles seemed hemmed in by the sports car-size gym at Fairfield and never could get their fast break moving. Fairfield, on the other hand, played like champions all the way and, if it hadn't been for the sharpshooting of the Eagles' Jim Summer, might have run away with the ballgame. Summer managed to score only one basket in the first stanza, but ended the contest with 26 points. The hefty forward kept United in the game with his deadly one hand jump shots.

Lee Chamberlain scored 20, Jim Olnhausen 15 and Laverne Keslar 14 to pace the Rebels' attack. Joe Costanzo tallied eight and Larry Pepple 10 to complete the Fairfield scoring. Clarence Kannal played a fine floor game and Ross Dillon did yeoman work under the boards for Newton's squad, but neither man entered the scoring column.

UNITED'S JIM PIKE was the only Eagle besides Summer in double figures. The speedy guard wound up with 11. Gary Lindesmith hit for nine, big Frank Shagnot potted seven and Terry Gorka and Les Blanchard chipped in with four apiece to round out the scoring for Bob Penrod's team.

Pike hit a jump shot from the free throw line with two minutes gone in the first period to give United Local a 2-0 lead. This proved to be the only time the Golden Eagles enjoyed the advantage until early in the overtime period.

Costanzo countered with a push shot and the Rebels were off and running. Two free throws by Keslar gave Fairfield a 4-2 lead and after a United Local charity toss narrowed the gap, Chamberlain hit two straight buckets and Keslar another brace of free throws to push the Rebels out in front by 10-3.

The tall and talented Fairfield club kept pouring it on and at no time, in the initial frame, did the margin get less than six points. A Keslar push shot and a driving layup by Pepple gave Fairfield-Waterford a commanding 22-12 lead as the first quarter ended.

IN THE SECOND PERIOD Summer started to connect with his jump shot and United appeared headed out of the doldrums. A tip-in by Shagnot brought the score to 22-45. Two minutes later Gorka hit a jump shot and the margin was cut to five at 25-50. Costanzo hit a one-hander for the Rebels, but the Eagles started a full-court press and Pike stole the ball twice in a row and drove down for easy bunnies to bring the score to 57-34.

Pike stole the ball again and passed off to Lindesmith whose bucket brought the score to 57-56 to big Shagnot. The Rebels, however, dropped back to double team the 6-5 pivotman and the Eagles again had to rely on the long shots of Summer. Olnhausen and Chamberlain kept their shooting eyes in the third quarter and Fairfield managed to outscore their opponents by a point in the eight minutes. The score at the end of three was 49-36.

United started chopping away at the Fairfield lead in the final period. Midway in the quarter, a jump shot by Summer and a tip-in by Shagnot brought the score to 52-45. Two minutes later Gorka hit a jump shot and the margin was cut to five at 55-50. Costanzo hit a one-hander for the Rebels, but the Eagles started a full-court press and Pike stole the ball twice in a row and drove down for easy bunnies to bring the score to 57-34.

Pike stole the ball again and passed off to Lindesmith whose bucket brought the score to 57-56 with less than a minute to play. A few seconds later, Olnhausen was fouled by a United Local defensive man and the rangy forward canned one out of two free throws to make the count 58-56 with ten seconds remaining.

THE EAGLES TOOK THE BALL out of bounds and tossed it to Gorka at the top of the key. Gorka let fly with a lefthanded jump shot that swished through the nets to knot the score. The gun sounded the end of regulation time before Fairfield-Waterford had an opportunity to put the ball in play. The score at the end of 32 minutes was 58-58.

In the overtime period, Lindesmith hit a free throw to give the Golden Eagles an early 59-58 lead. Costanzo put Fairfield back in the lead with a 15-foot push shot, but Summer countered with a 30-foot jump shot and United led 61-60. Chamberlain tallied on a long jump shot and the 6-1 senior forward canned a charity toss to give Newton's crew a 63-61 lead with 45 seconds remaining.

United missed a jump shot and the Fairfield rebounder threw the ball the length of the court to Keslar, who was playing a "sleeper" at the other end. Keslar put in the layup and the Rebels had a four point lead. Fifteen seconds later the Rebels pulled the "sleeper" again and Olnhausen counted on the bunny to make the score Fairfield-Waterford 67, United Local 61. That's the way it ended.

The junior varsity contest went two overtimes, with the Fairfield-Waterford reserves coming out on top by a score of 49-47. Brown scored all the Fairfield points in the overtime periods.

Fairfield's next game will be Jan. 16 when they travel to Salineville. United will try to get back on the victory wagon on the same date when they entertain Dover St. Joseph's.

Mat Man Took Long Way To Come To U.S.

Ilio DiPaulo who meets Gorgeous George in the first match of Frank "Tor" Julian's professional wrestling card at the Hi-Neighbor barn on the Pidgeon Road at 8 p.m. Monday, took the long way around to the U.S.A. and American wrestling.

DiPaulo was born in Italy and visited England, France, Cuba, the Dominican Republic and Venezuela before running out of foes and coming to America.

He had polio when a youth. He then took up body building courses to shake of the effects. Wrestling was a simple next step.

At the age of 18, the 6-2, 250-pound mat man was Italy's heavy-weight champion. His most popular weapon is the dropkick. He has a solid background of Greco-Roman experiences and is a versatile performer.
